

Natan Zuta

Co-Founder and CEO

Natan Zuta is among the co-founders of IOSight and has been the CEO since 2007. Through his vision of targeting developing market segments and water infrastructure, Natan has successfully transformed IOSight from a start-up to a leading provider of BI systems for infrastructure facilities. Under his leadership IOSight has evolved from the R&D stage to an established company with a series of specialty products in the water and energy industries.

Natan has 24 years of engineering experience in the software industry and a deep knowledge of information systems. IOSight's solutions benefit from Natan's unique combination of industrial management and software engineering expertise and his experienced business perspective.