

Founder and CEO of "Dead Sea Guardians", an organization to save the Dead Sea.

An entrepreneur; founded, managed and led businesses and initiatives in various realms; water, agriculture, music, sport and cultural events.

A veteran environmental activist who uses his experience, connections, capabilities, compassion and enthusiasm to take care of our planet and onboard people to join the ride and the approach.

Highly skilled in strategy, innovation, creative problem solving, and team consensus building.

An advocate in implementing best practices to solve the challenges the world is facing i.e. water, food, waste, energy and consequently environment and climate issues.

Oded holds a few world records in open-water swimming, and all swims were for a cause, environmental or social.